Biographical sketch

Photograph provided by John Near.

John R. Near was the distinguished William Martin and Mina Merrill Prindle Professor of Fine Arts, College Organist, and Unit Head of the Creative Arts and Communications at Principia College, where he served on the faculty from 1985 to 2013. He has a BA from Principia College, an MMus with honors from the New England Conservatory of Music, and a DMA from Boston University. Before joining the Principia College faculty, Dr. Near served as Associate Organist of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, from 1972 until 1981. A double CD of organ music recorded on the great Aeolian-Skinner organ in The Mother Church Extension while he was Associate Organist is issued on the Raven label. His publications include a ten-volume annotated edition of Widor's Symphonies for Organ, opuses 13, 42, 70, 73, and the first publication of Widor's Symphonie pour orgue et orchestre, opus 42[bis], (A-R Editions). His biography, Widor: A Life beyond the Toccata, was published in 2011 by the University of Rochester Press as part of its distinguished Eastman Studies in Music series. In 2012, he was awarded the John Ogasapian Book Award by The Organ Historical Society for "a distinguished work of original scholarship." In 2015, BBC Radio-3 featured Widor on its top-rated "Composer of the Week" program, and Dr. Near was interviewed on each of the five hour-long programs. He was also interviewed extensively in the Church of St. Sulpice, Paris, for the documentary Widor:

Master of the Organ Symphony, released in 2015 (Fugue State Films). His book on Widor's pedagogical writings, Widor on Organ Performance Practice and Technique, was published in 2019 by the University of Rochester Press. Dr. Near has written on Widor for The American Organist, and has presented professional papers at the Göteborg Sweden International Organ Academy, University of Iowa, Yale University, New England Conservatory of Music (in conjunction with the Westfield Center), Rice University, Princeton University, Oberlin College, University of Michigan, the 2002 (Philadelphia) and 2009 (Minneapolis) national conventions of the American Guild of Organists, and The Friends of the Wanamaker Organ. He contributed a chapter on Widor in Le Grand Orgue de Saint-Sulpice et ses Organistes and an article on Widor in the Dictionnaire de la musique en France au XIX^{ème} siècle. Upon his retirement from Principia College in 2013, the Board of Trustees conferred on him the title of Professor Emeritus of Music.

Provenance

The collection was the gift of John Near and was received by Sibley Music Library in February 2021.

Scope and content note

The collection promotes the legacy of the French organist-composer Charles-Marie Widor (1844–1937). It contains a nearly complete accounting of Widor's oeuvre; his works are represented in the collection as either published imprints or photocopies acquired by Dr. Near during his research on Widor. Several of the photocopies reproduce markings by Widor from his own scores, now held at the Bibliothèque nationale de France, or markings by his student Albert Riemenschneider from scores held at the Riemenschneider Bach Institute at Baldwin Wallace University. The collection also contains volumes 1–35 of L'orgue moderne, a periodical founded by Widor and Alexandre Guilmant that published solo organ music composed by their students and other young organists and composers.

Additionally, the collection contains modern critical editions of Widor's complete piano works issued by Crescendo Music Publications and a modern edition of Widor's Symphonie pour orgue et orchestre, Op. 42^[bis], which was issued by A-R Editions and edited by Dr. Near. Dr. Near produced modern editions of all ten of Widor's symphonies for organ, and his research materials, including photocopies of multiple imprints of the symphonies with extensive markings about Widor's revisions, and his correspondence about the modern additions are preserved here in Series 3. In this regard, the collection presents a rich look into Near's research and editorial processes.

Restrictions and use

No restrictions have been placed on the use of the collection. Reproduction of the collection's music will, however, be provided to patrons only in accordance with the provisions of the United States Copyright Law (1976) and its revisions.

Associations

As of this writing, the John R. Near Collection is the most recently acquired organistic collection at the Ruth T. Watanabe Special Collections. The other collections in that number are those of ESM faculty members Russell Saunders and Michael D. Farris; the collection of Dr. Mario Salvador, longtime organist-choirmaster of the Cathedral Basilica of St. Louis, Missouri; and the archive of the noted organist, pedagogue, and composer Rolande Falcinelli.

The Sibley Music Library holds several scores by Charles-Marie Widor in its circulating and rare books collections as well as one manuscript notebook containing sketches in the hand of Charles-Marie Widor and a copyist's score and performance set of parts for Widor's Symphonie pour orgue et orchestra, Op. 42, made by J. Faes (the score and parts had previously belonged to Charles M. Courboin). Additionally, the Letter File includes 55 autograph letters and four telegrams from Charles-Marie Widor to Mme. [Marie] Trélat, an excellent amateur singer who held Friday evening salons at her house in the rue de Seine. Widor was a regular attendee of Trélat's salon as were composers Georges Bizet, Gabriel Fauré, Charles Gounod, Jules Massenet, Camille Saint-Saëns; poets Ernest Renan, Sully Prudhomme, José Maria Hérédia; and the academic painters Henner Bonnat and Carolus-Duran.

DESCRIPTION OF SERIES

The collection is divided into five series as described below:

Series 1: Compositions of Charles-Marie Widor

This series represents a fairly representative collection of Widor's complete works with the exception of his compositions for solo organ, which are housed in Series 3. Dr. Near's original organization and labeling of the compositions have been preserved, namely, the bulk of the compositions are arranged by opus number (sub-series A), which is followed by works without an opus number (sub-series B); the latter are arranged by the date of composition. Included at the end of sub-series B are two folders containing miscellaneous imprints for (1) voice and piano and (2) solo piano. These works were received in Dr. Near's first deposit to the library.

This series is comprised of a mixture of original imprints and photocopied scores. Over the course of his research, Dr. Near procured the photocopies from various libraries across the globe. Some of the photocopies were made from Widor's personal scores, which are now held at the Bibliothèque nationale de France, and show his markings. Also significant are the photocopies of scores from the private library of Albert Riemenschneider, a student of Widor; Riemenschneider's scores are now held at the Riemenschneider Bach Institute at Baldwin Wallace University.

A few modern editions of select compositions are included in this series, particularly study scores issued by Crescendo Music Publications; this includes seven volumes comprising Widor's complete piano works, which have been separated as sub-series C.

Sub-series A: Works with opus numbers

Sub-series B: Works without opus numbers

Sub-series C: Complete Piano Works (Crescendo Music Publications)

Series 2: L'orgue moderne (edited by Ch.-M. Widor)

L'orgue moderne was a periodical founded by Widor and Alexandre Guilmant that published solo organ music composed by their students and other accomplished young organists and composers. The periodical was issued quarterly by the Alphonse Leduc music publishing firm from 1894 to 1930, comprising a total of 40 issues/volumes. Dr. Near collected volumes 1–35 of the publication in various formats. Series 2 contains several original imprints of L'orgue moderne as well as a full series of photocopies of vols. 1–21. Vols. 22–35 are on microfilm and, accordingly, have been housed in Series 5.

Series 3: Research for Critical Editions of Widor's Solo Organ Works

Series 3 contains an extensive archive of research materials on Widor's solo organ works, which comprised Dr. Near's second deposit. Dr. Near acquired these materials during his research for and preparation of modern editions of Widor's ten organ symphonies (opuses 13, 42, 70, and 73) and the first edition of Widor's Symphonie pour orgue et orchestre (Op. 42[bis]), all of which were published by A-R Editions. Dr. Near's original organization of these materials has been preserved, and the folder headings preserve his original labeling. The materials have been divided into two sub-series according to type:

Sub-series A: Scores and notes

This sub-series consists primarily of photocopied scores from various libraries in the US and abroad; a handful of published imprints are also present. These scores are accompanied by voluminous research notes on the editions and variants, which Dr. Near filed with the relevant scores. Some of the photocopies were made from Widor's personal scores, which are held at the Bibliothèque nationale de France, and contain the composer's markings. Other photocopies come from Widor's pupils Albert Riemenschneider and Albert Schweitzer; all contain the composer's markings. Following Dr. Near's original organization of these materials, the folders are grouped largely by the specific edition following the designations that Dr. Near described in his critical editions of Widor's organ works.

Sub-series B: Papers

This sub-series, which is comprised of various documents, correspondence, and publisher's proofs, complements Dr. Near's research material in sub-series A. One folder of material contains photocopies of newspaper reviews and concert programs related to the 1919 premiere and the 1922 reprise performance of Widor's Symphonie pour orgue et orchestre; this folder also contains an excerpt from the program for the 2002 American Guild of Organists' National Convention at which David James Christie and the Philadelphia Orchestra premiered the A-R Edition of the symphonie. Additional folders contain correspondence concerning the creation and publication of the critical editions of Widor's organ symphonies (organized chronologically), and one folder preserves edited publisher's proofs of Bach's Memento and Handel's Célèbre Largo (ed. John Near) for Crescendo Music Publications.

Series 4: Compositions of Charles-François Widor

This series contains two piano solos by Charles-François Widor (the father of Charles-Marie Widor), namely his Sérénade, Op. 6, and Chant du meunier, Op. 12. These scores were received as part of Dr. Near's first deposit.

Series 5: Microfilm

This series is comprised of 12 microfilm reels produced by various libraries in the US and Europe. Eight of the microfilm reels contain scores of compositions by Widor; this includes two microfilm from the Bibliothèque nationale de France that, in total, contain 20 of Widor's personal scores with the composer's corrections and revisions. A third microfilm from the Bibliothèque nationale de France contains vols. 22–35 of L'orgue moderne. The remaining three microfilm in the series are of dissertations on Charles-Marie Widor's works, including Dr. Near's own DMS dissertation ("The Life and Work of Charles-Marie Widor").

Sub-series A: Compositions of Charles-Marie Widor

Sub-series B: L'orgue moderne (edited by Ch.-M. Widor)

Sub-series C: Dissertations
